

July

National Parks and Recreation Month

Children and adults are not getting the physical activity they need.

Have family fun time, relax, exercise and reduce stress.

Parks and recreation facilities provide free space and activities to play safely with other children.

Check out local park websites, or activity listings in your local paper for programs, festivals, and activities that are happening in your area this month.

